Commenting on the recognition, President/ Executive Vice President Masayoshi Shino said, “Our company became listed on TSE Mothers market in August 2017, and just in 1 year after our listing, our consolidated sales increased by 2.5 times, showing a sign of steady growth.

As an enterprise that constructs life service infrastructure in solving “daily problems”, this year, we made efforts to expand the size of business by mainly focusing on the operation of comprehensive platform “Seikatsu110 (daily life emergency call)”, through engagements such as additional production of category specialization type site (increased to over 200 sites as of October, 2018) and development of new system “Mover”.

We will continue to further increase the corporate value through efforts such as actively challenge the means of new monetization form etc.”.

About the Technology Fast500 Program

The Deloitte Technology Fast 500 is the pre-eminent technology awards program in Asia Pacific, and now in its sixteenth year, it includes nine Asia Pacific locations: Australia; China (including Hong Kong); India; Japan; South Korea; Malaysia, New Zealand; Singapore and Taiwan. Combining technological innovation, entrepreneurship and rapid growth, Fast 500 companies — large, small, public, and private — span a variety of industry sectors from software to biotech. Fast 500 companies play in the SaaS, cloud computing, data analytics, and mobile sectors and are transforming the way we do business today.

About the Technology Fast50 Program

Japan Technology Fast 50 is the Japanese edition of the ranking series organized by DTTL , an international public accounting and consulting firm that ranks companies among TMT industries based on their recent revenue (sales) growth based on a three-year period. Because the revenue growth rates are used as indices, the ranking indicates the fastest-growing companies regardless of their sizes. Entries are accepted from both listed and unlisted companies and they are automatically nominated for Asia Pacific Technology Fast 500 that encompasses all technology industry segments including hardware, software, communications, media, life sciences and clean technology.
